Synod Of Alberta In Session At Calgary Adopts Resolution To That Effect

Without any discussion the Anglican Synod of Alberta, which concluded its annual session here last night, adopted the following resolution: "We desire to place on record our belief that our children are entitled to receive religious instruction in the schools they attend as fully and freely as those of any other denominations and that steps should be taken to secure the absolute right to such education either in separate or public schools, and we believe that a strong committee should be appointed with the bishop as chairman to take all necessary steps, including attending the legislative assembly, and the Government for the purpose of urging our claims."

The session deplored the low salaries paid to ministers and urged parents to instruct their children to devote their lives to the ministry. The next meeting will be held in Edmonton.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL IN SIOUX FALLS.

Sioux Falls, June 21.—A sensation resulted today when the general public became aware that 100 society women had organized themselves into a vigilance committee yesterday for the purpose of dynamiting the beautiful home of Mrs. Kaufmann, held for trial on the charge of beating a servant to death, in the event of her not being placed in jail.

COUNCIL RATIFIES SEWER PLANS

Tenders Will Be Called For At Once And Contracts Let By July 10th. Main Trunk Sewer Will Be Ten Feet In Diameter

CONSTRUCTION WILL BE CARRIED OUT AT RATE OF THIRTY FEET PER DAY

Work Will Be Carried On All Winter And Whole Job Completed In Thirteen Months.
Some Of The Details Of The Biggest Municipal Work Ever Undertaken In The Province Of Alberta.

At a quiet session lasting altogether not over thirty minutes the city council in special meeting last night ratified the plans for the sewer to be built by the city of Edmonton at an approximate expense of $300,000.

It was a quiet, business-like session, called on the shortest notice legally permissible, and there was no wrangling or masticating the textile fabric. Mayor Merly stated the purpose of the meeting and the council went into committee of the whole. Ald. Belamy taking the chair. Engineer R. R. Kestey and Commissioner Hargreaves were both present. At the suggestion of Ald. Mays, Engineer Kestey explained the formula by which he figured out the approximate size of sewer required. Following him, Mr. Hargreaves gave his formula, and the council had two opinions before it, either of which, as far as their knowledge went, might be wrong or right, as the case might be. Mr. Kestey's figures called for a nine foot sewer from the outlet to First street, while Mr. Hargreaves' figures called for a ten foot.

It was practically a case of guess with the council, and they chose the larger one so as to be on the safe side.

The committee of the whole rose and reported progress; Ald. Picard and Latta moved that the report be adopted.

Carried; Ald. Mays and Calhoun moved that tenders be called for at once, to be opened on July 9.—Carried; moved that the council adjourn.—Carried.—$300,000 worth of business done in 26 minutes—$10,000 a minute.

The work which has been undertaken constitutes by far the largest public work ever projected in Edmonton, and that matter by any municipality between Winnipeg and the Pacific coast. Figuring at the rate of thirty feet a day the concrete work alone will take thirteen months steady work to reach the corner of Mackenzie avenue and Ninth street, the place where it commences to really become useful to any large percentage of the citizens.

On the same basis, the sewer will serve no useful purpose this year as it will not reach First street until the last of January, 1907.

Commissioner Hargreaves believes that the work can be carried on all winter on the main trunk sewer as it will be all below the frost level. He proposes to let the contract in two sections, one for the main trunk sewer, which is to be of concrete, and the other for the laterals which are to be of tile.

The main sewer will be 11,400 feet from the outlet on Rat Creek to the corner of Mackenzie and Ninth.

Commencing at the foot of Saunders street, and crossing the city property to Edmonition, which it follows to First, will be the big 10 foot sewer 4300 feet long, and at the deepest point 41 feet beneath the surface. This is the deepest place of the whole sewer system and is for only a few feet.

On First street, from the corner of Edmonition to Churchill, and then along Churchill to Ninth, the sewer will be seven feet in diameter, and 4,970 feet long.

This seven foot sewer, it is expected, will some day be supplemented by another 7 foot sewer coming in from the north, to drain Newwood and the unimproved Hudson's Bay Reserve. Two seven-foot sewers equal one 10-foot. Multiply 7x7 and by 2 and you have 98. Multiply 10x10 and you have 100. That is the engineering of it.

From the corner of Churchill and Ninth the main sewer goes south on Ninth, across the C. N. R. to the corner of Ninth and Mackenzie, as a 5-1-2 foot concrete conduit 2450 feet long.

On McKenzie it is a 3-foot pipe 2260 feet long, and on Twelfth a 3 foot pipe 2000 feet long.

All this is concrete and constitutes the main sewer only.

All the lateral work will be tile. On Mackenzie there will be 22,000 feet from First to connect with the concrete extension at Sixth.

On Ninth there will be 2600 feet of pipe from Victoria to Mackenzie.

On Second, Third and Fourth there will be branches from Peace to Mackenzie, 580 feet each.

On Fifth and Sixth, branches from the lane south of Jasper to Mackenzie, 2130 feet each.

On Seventh and Eighth, from the middle of the block between Jasper and Victoria, 2390 feet each.

The depth of the main sewer will average 14 feet, and the depth of the branches ten feet.

The intention is to call for tenders in two sections, one for the concrete trunk sewer and one for the tile laterals, work to commence at once all along the line.

As the tenders are to be in by the 9th of July, the contracts should be awarded at the council meeting of July 10th, and work commenced within the week. The city's Carson trencher, which was ordered a month ago, is on the way and should be here in time to be put to work at once. The proposition is to lease it to the contractor at $10 a day.

As a check on the contractors the city engineer will put in a tender on the work. If the contractors tenders are too high the work will be undertaken by the city under the supervision of the engineer.

C.M.R. PARADE

The C. M. R. will parade in full dress uniform tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on the parade grounds at the camp. A good view of the parade will be obtained from the brow of the hill at Fifteenth street. The officers of the regiment will also be at home to their friends at the camp from four to six on the same afternoon, and the public are invited to visit the camp. An undress parade in straw hats will be held in the morning.

STATION FOR PRINCE ALBERT.

KING HAAKON CROWNED TO-DAY

Norway Takes Place As Independent Kingdom For First Time Since Fourteenth Century

Trondjem, Norway, June 22.—Arrangements are now complete for the formal coronation in Trondjem cathedral today of King Haakon Seventh, as first independent ruler of the Norwegian kingdom since the 14th century. The last of the visiting delegations arrived last night, and this little city of 40,000 inhabitants, whose streets have re-echoed with shouts of Viking hordes in centuries long gone by, is crowded with a cosmopolitan assemblage who have arrived here to do honor to Norway as it again takes its place among the nations of the world.

LOS ANGELES SOCIETY NOTE

Los Angeles, Cal., June 21.—W. F. Ketring shot and fatally wounded his divorced wife and niece, Bessie Oday, here last night. They had been separated for two years, and Ketring called and asked his wife to return to him. She refused, and when he became violent Miss Oday went to the telephone to call the police. Thereupon Ketring shot both.

UNDER TWO FLAGS.

Niagara Camp, June 21.—Alexander McKenzie, of Lisowel, a private of the 38th regiment, will be tried by court martial for appearing in camp in an American uniform. McKenzie explains that he was drunk and fell in the river, but the impression is that he enlisted in the United States army. He was with the Strathcona Horse in South Africa and the Northwest Mounted police.

PIRACY ON HIGH SEAS

Evil Individuals Hoist Black Flag On Troubled Waters Of Saskatchewan And Comander Peaceful Craft

Some evil-minded spirits have lately hoisted the black flag on the limpid waters of the Saskatchewan and have been conducting a sort of piratical raid on small craft moored along the banks of the majestic river east of the city. "Bob" Willis, who is the owner of a small coasting craft which navigates the river propelled by man power, walked into the Bulletin office last evening and related to the marine editor a story about how his boat had been seized and carried mysteriously away, like ships that pass in the night. He said when he came one morning to go on board the boat was not at the spot where she had been moored the night before. But he did find on the bank a congregation of orange peelings, pop bottles, remains of mangled sandwiches, etc., which by the Sherlock Holmes method he figured signified that a picnic party had come and "gone." "Bob" has been sailing the Saskatchewan seas in search of his craft for many a day and has come to the conclusion that the boat must be drifting somewhere down around Lake Winnipeg. Others who have suffered similar losses by some subjects of the black flag, are John Milner, who lost two boats, one of which he found six miles nearer the sea and the other not at all, while J. R. Brimton, mourns the loss of one of his fleets, merchantmen.

There have been times in the history of the human race when perpetrators of such crimes as stealing domestic and home-loving boats, have been made to walk the plank or pay the penalty with their lives in some other hideous manner, but in this prosaic age they were merely dragged before a magistrate and sent down on summary conviction. Bob Willis and the other owners of craft along the river, swear that if they ever get a photograph of the pirates, there will be a new set of facts staring through the bars at Fort Saskatchewan.

STOCK INSPECTORS FOR ALBERTA

Minister Of Agriculture Meets Stock Growers Association at Calgary and Makes Important Arrangements

Hon. W. T. Finlay, Minister of Agriculture, and Geo. Harcourt, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, returned from a trip to Calgary and Medicine Hat this week. The special object of the trip was to meet representatives of the Western Stock Growers' Association and representatives of firms, for the purpose of discussing with them the improvement of the work of stock inspection. The Minister of Agriculture met these representatives in Calgary, on Saturday. It was decided to appoint more local stock inspectors, and also a chief stock inspector, who will have the superintendence of the local inspectors. The stock inspector at Winnipeg, who has been the representative of the Stock Growers' Association there, is to be again retained this year. Owing to the growing importance of Calgary as a shipping point, a permanent stock inspector will in future have headquarters there. These improvements over the present condition will greatly facilitate and expand the work of inspection of stock, and will afford the necessary means of keeping tab on all stock shipped from the province.

The appointment of a live stock commissioner is also under consideration by the Government, but nothing definite regarding this may be done until the members of the administration return to the capital.

Hon. Mr. Finlay was also in Medicine Hat to arrange for the opening of a joint brand recording office. The office will be opened about July 1st. J. Wilson, chief clerk in the Agriculture Department, has been appointed Registrar of Brands, with his headquarters at the office in Medicine Hat. All brands in both Alberta and Saskatchewan will be recorded at this office, the brands for each province, however, being recorded in separate books. Persons ranging cattle in the vicinity of the interprovincial boundary (the fourth meridian) may, when applying for brands, also, on the payment of $1.00, obtain a record of the same in the Saskatchewan books, thus protecting themselves, in the event of their cattle wandering over the border.

Hon. Mr. Finlay also intends attending all agricultural fairs in the province. He says the crops throughout the country are looking "exceptionally well," but have been retarded somewhat by the operations of the cutworm which in some sections has done considerable harm to the grain. Mr. Harcourt, the Deputy Minister, says that this spring the cutworm has been particularly active in several quarters. He gives as a reason for this that owing to the long dry spring the cutworm was enabled to destroy the grain before it had grown strong enough to resist the attack.

In spite of this pest, however, the crops throughout the province have the appearance of being particularly bountiful.

Jim Hill's FaithPrompts New Lines

United States will some Day Have to Import Wheat from the Dominion

British Columbia's Great

Wealth

The Railway-Age, published in Chicago, under date of June 11, 1906, contains an interesting statement touching Mr. Hill's new scheme of railway building in Canada which will be of interest to the people of Edmonton.

The subject is treated in a very general way and at considerable length, but the following are the salient points:

"At present the Great Northern system has lines from Seattle, Wash., north to Vancouver, B. C.; from Spokane, Wash., to Nelson, Grand Forks and Midway, B. C.; from Bonanza, Idaho, north to Kuskonook, B. C.; and from Rexford, Mont., north to Fernie, B. C.

"Under the charter of the Vancouver, Victoria & Eastern an east and west line over 300 miles long is being built from Midway via Keremeos and Princeton to Cloverdale, B. C., which is a short distance south of Vancouver. This new line penetrates a rich coal and lumber district and while it will prove a valuable feeder for the main line of the Great Northern, Mr. Hill has reached the conclusion that the rapid development of Western Canada will justify the construction of another transcontinental line, and therefore he has decided to build from Winnipeg west to Fernie, a distance of about 850 miles.

"The two arms extending to Nelson, and Kuskonook can be connected on the north by the construction of fourteen miles of road. The route of the Vancouver-Winnipeg line will then be from Vancouver via Midway and Grand Forks to Marcus, Wash.; thence over the main line of the Great Northern to Rexford, Mont., and thence north to Fernie and on to Winnipeg.

"This is by no means a direct route to Fernie from the coast, but it would be almost an impossible task to build from Fernie west through the mountains to Grand Forks, which would be necessary in order to secure a direct line. The distance by the route outlined will be 1575 miles, against 1482 miles by the present line of the Canadian Pacific from Winnipeg to Vancouver.

"What are Mr. Hill's reasons for building this new transcontinental line when already the country is served by the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern, with the Grand Trunk Pacific under construction?

"In Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta lie the great wheat-producing fields of Western Canada, a territory which is estimated to contain 80,000 square miles of fertile agricultural lands. The development of this section during the past few years has been remarkable. Hundreds of thousands of farmers have flocked to this new country from the United States and the influx continues.

Mr. Hill asks this question: "How long will it be before the United States ceases to be a wheat-exporting nation? We now use 80,000,000 bushels of wheat annually for bread and seed, and the yearly consumption is increasing at a rapid pace. With our population growing steadily, home consumption will increase and it will not be a great many years until the United States will have to import wheat from Canada."

"The occupation of these fertile lands means an immense grain traffic for the railroads, and Mr. Hill has determined to get a share of it. The mountainous regions of British Columbia are wonderfully rich in coal, minerals and lumber. The farmers on the prairies east of the mountains need this coal and lumber, and there will be a large traffic in these commodities while the new line to Winnipeg is built. The people of Western Canada want to reach Canadian markets. With the mountain road nearing completion the Hill system, serving the rich Kootenay district, must have communication with the Canadian commercial centres.

"The road now being built through the mountains constitutes the coalfield part of the transcontinental route, and when it is completed the most difficult step toward a through line will have been taken. The road from Fernie to Winnipeg can be built on a four-tenths per cent. grade and with curves not to exceed three degrees. Construction will not be difficult, and it is estimated that the road can be built at a cost of from $20,000 to $25,000 a mile, while the cost, including terminals, will not exceed $20,000 per mile.

"The extensions of the Great Northern into Canada now under construction are from St. John, N. D., to Brandon, Man., seventy-five miles; from Neche, N. D., to Portage la Prairie, Man., 79 miles, and from Wadena, N. D., to Morden, Man., twenty miles. The Brandon extension is being built under the charter of the Brandon, Saskatchewan & Hudson Bay Railway Company, and the Portage la Prairie and Morden extensions are being built from Winnipeg south to the international line at Emerson.

"That the main line from Winnipeg will pass through Portage la Prairie and Brandon is certain, but west of the latter point the proposed route is known only to Mr. Hill and his lieutenants.

"Extensive terminals have been purchased at Winnipeg at a cost of $3,000,000, and terminals have also been acquired at Portage la Prairie and Brandon. Work on these branches is well advanced and they will be completed by the early fall.

"Fertile are now in the field west of Winnipeg, and Mr. Hill asserts that the line from that city to Vancouver will be ready for operation by the time the Grand Trunk Pacific is completed to Winnipeg.

"The people of Canada are anxious to secure Mr. Hill's road and are making all kinds of overtures, but the president of the Great Northern says: 'We ask no favors. All we want is fair treatment. We will purchase our right of way and will build our road without subsidies.'

Growing Plants Shown

By Kinetoscope

Clever Scheme of United States Department To Illustrate Lectures

The scientists in the Department of Agriculture are preparing to match in a practical way, by a new application of "moving picture" photographic apparatus, the miracle of the Hindu fakir, who plants a seed, and causes the tree, which springs from it, to grow and come to maturity before the eyes of the spectators. Professor Willett H. Hays, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, is preparing a series of unique stereoscopic views with the idea that in the near future, an "education train" shall be sent out to tour the country, to tell by "moving pictures" and lectures what the Government is doing for the farmer.

To the human eye plants are motionless. Their life processes are so gradual that we observe the results, but not the action. Yet this action, this growth, can be reproduced by "moving pictures." If a succession of pictures of a quick-growing plant be taken at intervals—say, of one every hour—and are then run through a machine which throws them upon the screen at the rapid rate of sixteen or more to the second, the plant photographed seems to be growing before one's eyes.

In two or three minutes the machine will throw on the screen the life history of a plant which may require many weeks to mature. A corn-cob, for example, is one of the most rapid growers in our latitude. Yet after a pea is planted in a pot of earth, several days elapse before there is any sign of life. This interval is represented in the moving picture exhibition by several seconds. Then the first double-leaved shoot presses out of the ground. Two or three days more pass before these two leaves have shaken off their protecting envelope, and spread out. In the moving picture a couple of seconds suffice to bring them to their full development. Then a third leaf is seen taking form between the other two. This process is followed by the astonished spectator, to follow by a fourth, a fifth, a sixth, increasing in girth and height, branches, more leaves and flowers. These are seen to fall, and in their places the tiny seed pods take shape and grow. These ripen and are picked; the plant dries up and dies. It has all happened—all the changes of the season—in three minutes.

Considerable ingenuity is required to get the pictures to show this process. The plant whose picture is taken must be in a greenhouse, where it will not be subject to the disturbances of wind or other causes. An arc-light burns day and night to furnish light for the exposures. Finally, the moving-picture apparatus is connected with the mechanism of a clock in such manner that a new picture is taken every hour. Thus twenty-four pictures record the history of the day's growth.

There is a general demand in all farming communities for more information about plant breeding. Accordingly Professor Hays has had the moving picture camera turned upon the work at the Minnesota Experimental Station, where his assistants are carrying on the work he inaugurated in breeding new varieties of wheat and flax. The views show the men dropping seed into the little checker-board test plots; the test plots in bearing; the process of reaping the test plots; the special miniature threshing machine at work; the process of macerating the blossom of the wheat; the men in the act of fertilizing one flower with the pollen of another variety; the method of tying and labelling; and finally, the results obtained. These views will, with others, be used to illustrate the lectures delivered from the "education train" this summer.—The World's Work.

ANGLICANS WANT SEPARATE SCHOOLS.
 Calgary, June 21 (Special to the Bulletin).—At a meeting of the Anglican Synod here to-day the bishop introduced the school question, complaining that though the Anglicans had asked for privileges similar to those granted to Roman Catholics in school matters, these privileges had not been granted. A resolution is before the synod this afternoon protesting against what they consider a discrimination.

A LITTLE DIVERSION

edit: A little diversion

For some months Mayor Coatsworth, of Toronto, has been pouring out the vials of his wrath upon the newspapers of that city because they take issue with him upon questions of civic government, and, forsooth, they dare to publish some of the foolish things he does. In this city a worthy alderman is trying to emulate Toronto's mayor in the matter of a similar complaint.

This paper has done nothing but report the proceedings of the council, when it could gain access to the meetings, and has endeavored to tell the story of its proceedings correctly. That the city council appears to be mixing things up this year is not by any means due to the incapacity of its members. They are all capable business men, quite competent to discharge the duties they have undertaken, but there is too much friction in their work. The duties of public works commissioner and city engineer do not seem to be clearly enough defined to make things workable. Civic affairs as a result are to a certain extent just drifting along, and by way of diversion an alderman takes a fling at the newspapers for reporting what is done; if they reported what wasn't done he might have greater ground for complaint.

UNFAIR AND UNTRUE

A recent issue of Reynolds's Weekly contains the following criticism of Canada as a field for the emigrant's activities: "Canada is no place for the man who is not prepared to work even harder than the agricultural laborer at home. For a portion of the winter months—and they are long and monotonous—he may be out of a job. The land grants are not all rosy, the best land having already been occupied or monopolized by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. As to ordinary workmen, we have been overwhelmed with protests from the Canadian Trade Unions, they alleging that the employers want to cheapen labor by operating an overstocked market." Here is a collection of half-truths which are known to be the blackest of lies. It is true that the settler who wishes to do well in Canada must work harder than the "ca' canny" workers of the Mother-country, who are not allowed by the Trade Unions to do more than a certain amount of work in a day—generally about half as much as is performed by a Canadian or American employed in the same industry. But it must be remembered that the former has much better meals, earns much higher wages as long as he is content to be a mere wage-earner, has the advantage of a better climate and more healthy conditions of labor, and—above all—knows that a few years at most of hard work will place him and his family beyond danger of poverty. Again, the suggestion that there is little or nothing to be done in Canada during the winter months (which are no longer than they are elsewhere under the sun) is utterly inexcusable. Nobody who has spent a year on a farm in any part of the Dominion will endorse it. It is true enough that the "land grants are not all rosy"; for the flowers of the prairie are extirpated by the plough in order to make room for wheat and other economic plants. But it is a downright falsehood to say that the best land has already been occupied or is in the possession of the C. P. R. or any other corporation. Only 9.7 per cent of the acreage of Manitoba is as yet cultivated, and only 0.47 per cent (less than one two-hundredth part) of the gigantic new provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, which are just as fertile and have as good a climate as Manitoba. The truth is that settlement is merely in its infancy throughout Western Canada. We have no doubt that some of the Canadian trades unionists have written to our ill-informed contemporary to protest against the emigration of British artisans and factory hands. They have a good thing, and wish to keep it to themselves. But the British emigrant, who can turn his hands to any kind of work, or is willing to learn to do so, can dispense with the blessings of these organizations, which are politically impotent. All who are engaged in the exploitation of Canada's natural resources—farm lands, mines, forests, etc.—are unanimously of opinion that the shortage of wage labor is the only obstacle to an even more rapid development of the country.—Canada.

President Roosevelt gave good advice to the girls' school the other day when he told them to "keep their eyes on the stars," but their young men will exchange winks with the chorus girls.

The San Francisco spirit is well illustrated by the following sign that a citizen posted on the wreck of his residence:

The cow is in the hammock.
The cat is in the lake;
The babies are in the garbage can;
What difference does it make?

This is June; birds in tune.

Roses everywhere;

Skies of blue, rapture new,

All the world is fair.

Now they go ('s always so)

Women roam, pa stays home,

When Frank Stockton started out with his Rudder Grange experiences he undertook to keep chickens. One old motherly Plymouth Rock brought out a trood late in the fall and Stockton gave her a great deal of his attention. He named each of the chicks after some literary friend, among the rest Mary Mapes Dodge. Mrs. Dodge was visiting the farm some time later and happening to think of her namesake she said:
"By the way, Frank, how does little Mary Mapes Dodge get along?"
"The funny thing about little Mary Mapes Dodge," said he, "is, she turns out to be Thomas Bailey Aldrich."

Forest Monarch of British Columbia

Largest Fir Tree Ever Cut on the Coast Contained 18,500 Feet of Lumber.

Vancouver, B.C., June 22.—All records for large trees in British Columbia forests were broken last week when a gigantic Douglas fir containing according to the British Columbia scale, no less than 18,500 feet of merchantable lumber, was felled at Camp A. Hastings mill camp at Rock Bay. This huge log has been put into the water and will arrive in Vancouver next week in a boom being made up for the Hastings mill here.

The immensity of the toothpick is easily realized when one measures off 11 feet 6 inches in height, which is the diameter of the log at the butt. At the small end its diameter is 4 feet 10 inches, and its length is 99 feet.

The big fir was cut down by William Mackay, logger at Camp A, one of the pioneer loggers on this coast. Mr. Mackay makes his long experience in the woods on the statement that the log contains more merchantable timber than any other ever cut in British Columbia.

A photograph of the log, beside which a man is standing, shows the man as a midge alongside it.

SUPPLEMENTARIES BROUGHT DOWN.

Ottawa, June 20.—Special to the Bulletin.—The supplementary estimates for the nine months ending March 31st, 1907, amount to $4,667,166. Among the items affecting Western Canada are the Alameda land office for which $3,000 is appropriated, the Edmonton immigration building, $5,000; the Edmonton jail, revets, $20,000; Edmonton public building, $10,000; to complete the Moose Jaw public building, $5,000; sanitary fittings and improvements to the Dominion land office at Regina, $366; Regina government house improvements, $2,000; Saskatoon immigration repairs, $3,000.

There is a supplementary of $38,000 for the Indian department for the provinces of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, $10,000 for a commission to investigate the grain trade and $10,000 for the international commission on the Red River of the north.

The Sunday observance bill was discussed in parliament today and good progress made. Bourassa was the most bitter opponent of the bill.

The Great Event Of Once In A Long While.

REVILLON'S Will Again Do Something Out Of The Ordinary On Saturday

We are too busy on Saturday, night and not busy enough on Saturday morning and afternoon. We know that most men put off buying their clothes until the very last minute and then at the end of the week. It's natural; most of us cannot spare the time, therefore we have decided to make it worth your while to come early on Saturday morning. We shall offer at 9.50 a.m. 218 Suits of so high a character as to astonish and delight you and the price will be

$9.50 per suit

It is hardly fair that the man should have it all his own way in the Bargain List so we have devoted a line to the little chaps; they will surely be going to the Fair, and we venture to say that they propose having a good time there as well as their elders. What would be more suitable then for them to wear, than a first-class

Sweater

They always look well; they wear well; they save the best clothes, and what is more to the point, they are economical; you can get them on Saturday morning at 50c.

Is It Language, Magnetism, Or Just Horse Sense

The Oft Debated Question Of How A Horse Should Be Driven

Every once and again the matter of whether it is better for the manager of a horse to talk to the animal comes up for discussion, and some able writer is sure to point out that the most very successful riders and drivers are extremely silent men, rarely speaking or making a move in the most exciting situations, yet seeming to communicate with the horse in a most understandable way. An explanation offered for this is that the horse has a limited apprehension of the meaning of words, but is endowed with a wonderfully retentive memory for the things horses learn, therefore it is best to teach him a few necessary things and teach those thoroughly. This is no doubt true; but it is equally true that many horses require soothing by the voice of some human that they know and have confidence in. In the case of those that are handled by the phenomenally taciturn driver it will generally be found that another driver may have to encourage with the voice in order to avert panic under some circumstances, and on the other hand the horseman who rarely speaks may have no difficulty in handling the horse that is used to being talked to almost continuously.

The silent man frequently has some sort of magnetic influence that is given to few mortals. But there are examples of the very antithesis of this. On the tracks of the Western Jockey Club a few years ago there operated an elderly man who made a specialty of redeeming "rogues." How he did it no man could tell. He used no medicines, nor any paraphernalia, but he never failed with a horse. His method was a lousious one, too. He would get close to the horse and begin talking in a smooth monotonous voice. Pretty soon he would have that nag's confidence, and would be exchanging caresses with him. In two days' time, if not interferred with, he could reduce a man-eater to a state where a child might play under his feet. Sometimes the patient would relapse again into his evil ways, but this "Professor" would reform him again in a few hours.

Geason, the greatest of horse trainers in this country, worked on entirely different lines. His method was to make the horse understand that he was acting through his own punishment. With the assistance of ingenious devices, he could reduce any horse powerless without harming the animal. He convinced the horse that the driver was stronger, and then the rest was easy. Geason was sometimes silent and sometimes talkative. It made no difference to him whether the horse liked him or not, it was sure to respect him. But he was never unkind except when the horse forced punishment on himself.

Exemption Clauses Of Sunday Observance Law

A Number Of Exceptions To The Act Prohibiting Labor On Sabbath Day. No More Sunday Newspapers Or Excursions

Yesterday's dispatches reported that the House was making progress on the Lords' Day Observance Bill. The bill as amended by the special committee has been reprinted and it is now possible to gather a clearer conception of the provisions than was possible in the first rough draft. The exemption clause is of interest to many callings and industries, and there is one section which provides, among other things, that a domestic servant who is employed on Sunday shall have one full day off during the week.

Sections 3 and 4 read as follows: 3. Notwithstanding anything herein contained, any person may on the Lord's day do any work of necessity or mercy, and for greater certainty, but not so as to restrict the ordinary meaning of the expression, "work of necessity or mercy," it is hereby declared that it shall be deemed to include the following classes of work:

(a) Any necessary or customary work in connection with divine worship; (b) Work for the relief of sickness and suffering, including the sale of drugs, medicines and surgical appliances by retail; (c) Receiving, transmitting or delivering telegraph or telephone messages; (d) Storing or maintaining fires, making repairs to furnaces or repairs in cases of emergency, or doing other work, when such fires, repairs or work are necessary to any industrial process of such a continuous nature that it cannot be stopped without serious injury to its product or to the plant or property used in such process, or if without the doing of such work on the Lord's day such process cannot be carried on continuously and safely during the other six days of the week;

(e) Any work, without the doing of which on the Lord's day electric current, light heat or gas cannot be continuously supplied for lawful purposes;

(f) The conveyance of travellers and work incidental thereto;

(g) The continuance to their destination of trains and vessels in transit when the Lord's day begins;

(h) Loading and unloading merchandise at intermediate points on or from passenger boats and passenger trains;

(i) Keeping railway tracks clear of snow or ice, making repairs in cases of emergency, or doing any other work of a like nature, without the doing of which on the Lord's day the traffic on the transportation lines cannot safely be carried on;

(j) Work before six o'clock in the forenoon and eight o'clock in the afternoon of yard crews handling cars in a railway yard;

(k) Loading, unloading and operating any ocean going vessel which otherwise would be unduly delayed after her schedule time of sailing or any vessel which would otherwise be in imminent danger of being stopped by the closing of navigation.

(l) Carrying for live stock and perishable products arriving at any point during the Lord's day;

(m) The operation of any ferry boat authorized by any competent authority to carry passengers on the Lord's day;

(n) The hiring of horses and carriages for the personal use of the hirer or his family for any purpose not prohibited by the Act;

(o) Any unavoidable work after eight o'clock in the evening of the Lord's day in the preparation of the regular Monday morning edition of a daily newspaper;

(p) Any unavoidable work after 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the Lord's day for or in connection with the setting of bakers' spanges;

(q) The operation of any Canadian electric street railway company whose line is interprovincial or international of its cars for passenger traffic on the Lord's day or any line or branch now regularly so operated.

Clause 4 says: It shall not be lawful for any person to permit any employee other than employees on boats that do not complete their regular trips within twenty-four hours to do on the Lord's day any work within sub-sections (e) to (n) inclusive; and sub-sections (q) and (r) of section 3 of this act or incidental thereto, unless such employee is given within the next six days of such week 24 consecutive hours without labor.

All kinds of excursions are stopped by clause 6, which reads: It shall not be lawful for any person on the Lord's day to run, conduct, or convey by any mode of conveyance, any excursion on which passengers are conveyed for hire and having for its principal or only object the carriage on that day of such passengers for amusement or pleasure and passengers so conveyed shall not be deemed to be passengers within the meaning of the act.

Clause 7 says: It shall not be lawful for any person on the Lord's day to open to the public any park or pleasure ground or other place maintained for gain to which an admission fee is charged directly or indirectly, or within which a fee is charged for any service or privilege.

Hunting on Sunday is aimed at by clause 9: It shall not be lawful for any person on that day to shoot at any target, mark, or other object, or to use any gun, rifle or other engine for that purpose.

Clause 10 is of interest to newsmen: It shall not be lawful for any person to bring into Canada for sale or distribution, or to sell or distribute within Canada on the Lord's day any foreign newspaper or publication classified as a newspaper.

Any constable is given authority under the act to enter suspected premises other than a dwelling house.

Volunteers Under Canvas

The White Walled Town on the Picturesque Flat By the Mighty River

For nearly a week the first volunteer military camp to be held in Alberta has been in progress upon the beautiful green plain in the valley just west of the old Hudson Bay fort. This is the training camp of the newly-organized regiment of Canadian Mounted Rifles, including "A" squadron of Edmonton, "B" squadron of Strathcona and "C" squadron of Port Saskatchewan.

THE CAMP.

The camp is situated immediately at the foot of Fourteenth street, and is reached by the trail from the Hudson Bay fort. "A" squadron occupies a position at the head of the camp, "B" squadron on the left and "C" squadron on the extreme left. Each squadron occupies two rows of canvas, and the horses are picketed between the rows of tents and being the tents.

The tents of the officers are in the rear of the main group, in a row, the officers' mess tent being at the end of the row, with the officers' cook established in the rear of the mess tent. The sergeants' and corporals' mess tent is at the opposite side of the main group, with the regimental cook close at hand. The privates receive their rations in their tents and are satisfied.

The fare is of the very best, and the men express themselves delighted with the achievements of their special friend, the Chinese cook. The stores tent is situated at the head of the rows occupied by "A" squadron.

The horses also are well treated, and receive their regular allowance of hay and oats, which are of the very best, and if the animals do kick once in a while it is not because they are dissatisfied with their "grub." Each man is his own groomman, and is taught to give his horse the care and attention it would get were it in the best of livery stables.

THE OFFICERS IN CHARGE.

Col. Macdonnell, D.S.O., of Winnipeg, is the officer in command of the camp. With him are Capt. Mackie, D. S. O., and Sergt. Jackson, also of Winnipeg. These officers do the instructing and have complete charge of the drilling. Under them are Major S. Eaton, commanding Edmonton Squadron, Major Fred Jamison, commanding Strathcona squadron, and Major Aylen, commanding Port Saskatchewan Squadron. Each squadron has its Sergt. Major, Quartermaster Sergt., in charge of the stores, and stores corporal. Corporal Grant of "A" squadron, troop three, is acting orderly room clerk for the regiment. Each squadron consists of four troops with a troop sergeant in charge, and a corporal in the ranks. Sergt. Jackson is acting regimental sergt. major.

THE TENTS.

The tents in use are the regular military tents, and each tent is occupied on an average by six men. Each man is provided with a rubber blanket and two woollen blankets, which protect him from the dampness and afford a pretty fair covering at night.

THE GUARDS.

A main guard is placed at the approach to the camp just past the line of tents. The guard consists of one man, whose beat is the extent of the front of the camp, and who is on duty for twenty-four hours at a stretch. He is relieved every evening at seven o'clock. A picket guard is also placed on duty each night. This guard consists of twelve men, and it is their duty to take charge of the camp during the night, and see that none of the horses break loose or none of the boys attempt to desert. They have the ner. So far no occasion has arisen full privilege of using their bayonets on any chaps found around camp after hours and acting in a suspicious manner which would warrant such severe enforcement of discipline.

THE DAILY ROUND.

At five in the morning the bugle sounds reveille, that is if the bugler happens to get up in time. When the bugle sounds reveille, the private is supposed to return from the land of slumber and remember that he is in a strictly disciplined camp. If he doesn't happen to have a muscular and recognize the call he will very speedily be made aware of the fact that it is time to get up. Then he gets up and washes his sunburned face, regardless of the fact that the first is peeling off, for he has learned to endure. At five-thirty the bugle again sounds, this time calling the men to stables, which means that they are to look to their horses and take them to water. At six-thirty the little bugler plays another tune and the men turn out in undress uniform for a little military instruction to take the sleep out of their eyes. This done the horses are fed, and the men begin to feel hungry. Then comes the call the call that all the men recognize, musical ear or no. The old familiar lines come to them as the notes ring out on the air, "Come to the cook-house door boys." The tent orderlies rush for their pails and plates and lose no time getting to the cookhouse door, for it is "grub time." Another wind of the bugles comes at 8:30, when the men turn out for mounted drill and are at it hard until 11:30. At 1:45 again more drill until four o'clock, when the drill for the day is over. After the horses are fed and groomed and supper is over the men are free for the evening. Those who are off duty probably take a stroll up town to see their friends and show their uniforms. The guard is changed at seven, with two or three flourishes of the trumpet, and at 9:30 first post is sounded. This is a signal that the day is nearly over, and the men begin to gather in again to their tents. At a quarter past ten the bugle comes out of his tent again and sounds "taps." At the sound of this call the men blow out the candles which they have fastened to the tent poles and wrapping themselves in the great coats stretch themselves out between their blankets and pass a tolerably comfortable night.

The drill being taken up is the drill used in actual warfare, and the men are making wonderful progress in the training. The manoeuvres are under the personal supervision of Col. Macdonnell. The signal corps, which consists of five men, is under the instruction of Regimental Sergt-Major Jackson, and is making rapid progress. Rifle practice is also given the men each day at the rifle ranges of the Edmonton Rifle Association, across the river, the squadrons taking the practice in turn.

COUNTING SUNSHINE

For some time past an interesting little instrument has been on daily duty at the meteorological observatory on Fifth street, in charge of Harrison Young. This is an instrument the purpose of which is to record the number of hours and minutes of sunshine each day of the year.

The manner of recording the sunshine is a very simple one. A solid glass bulb, five inches in diameter is hung in a quadrant and underneath the bulb is placed in a half circle, a strip of blue cardboard divided into sections, representing the hours of the day. The rays of the sun shining through the glass burns into the cardboard and record each minute or hour of sunshine. A blank space is left on the cardboard during the time clouds have passed between the sun and the earth.

The proprietors of the Pendennis hotel, who have made extensive improvements upon their hostelry in the last few months, are now having a considerable extension put upon the bar. The small sitting room formerly at the rear of the bar room has been removed and the bar is being extended in that space. A handsome refrigerator is also being installed in the bar. The new banquet room recently opened, is now in daily use as a dining hall. It is a large, well lighted room, with tasteful decorations, and is one of the most fully equipped dining halls west of Winnipeg.

NEW INSURANCE CO.

The first general meeting of the shareholders of the Alberta-Canadian Insurance Company was held Thursday afternoon in the offices of Messrs. Taylor & Boyle, advocates.

A board of directors composed of Messrs. H. C. Taylor, J. H. Garney, P. E. Butchart, Alexander Taylor and Jos. Cornell, was elected; and at a subsequent meeting of the directors Messrs. H. C. Taylor and J. H. Garney were elected president and vice-president respectively.

Mr. Cornell was appointed managing director of the company and Mr. Edgar A. Brown, who has for some time filled the position of chief clerk in the head office of the Central Canada Insurance Co. will act as secretary of the Alberta-Canadian. Mr. Brown will in all probability reach Edmonton in the course of the next two weeks and take up his permanent residence here.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Miss Mead, of Alberta College, has gone to her home at Wetaskiwin for the summer months.

Miss Cousins, who has been the guest of Miss Grace Robinson for some time past, returned yesterday to her home in Medicine Hat.

For. Free Press, June 24, 1906: "Miss Bertha Madoff left Theford on Wednesday morning for Edmonton to fulfil a long standing engagement with Geo. Watcher, jeweller, of that place, formerly of Theford. George was quietly married in Calgary Monday, the 18th and is now spending a short honeymoon in Banff before returning to make his future home in Edmonton. This will be a surprise to his many friends in town, as he was looked upon as a confirmed bachelor.

Miss Rose Armstrong, of Carberry, Man., is visiting Mrs. Thos. May, 218 Boyle street.

Miss Webster entertained the members of the choruses at her home last evening at the close of the farewell concert.

Miss Macalpine, of Halifax, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Farquharson, Sixth street.

Mr. O. Shantz, of Port Elgin, Ont., is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. Oswald Ruby, of the C. N. R., who has been transferred from Vermillion to Edmonton, arrived last night.

Miss Shields, of Toronto, who has been appointed to a position in the Department of Education, arrived in the city this week.

Mr. F. W. Fraser, a recent arrival from British Columbia, is employed with John Sommerville, hardware merchant, of this city.

MISS WEBSTER'S FAREWELL

A large and appreciative audience gathered in the Thistle rink last night to hear Miss Ethel Webster's farewell concert and judging from the heartiness of the demands for encores every number was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Kerr assisted Miss Webster, and in "The Chough and Crow," displayed a very sweet contralto voice.

Mr. E. W. Mantle, a newcomer, was also well received, and his best number, "She Alone Charmeth My Sadness," was the occasion of an insistent demand by the audience for an encore.

Miss Webster's voice is too well known in Edmonton to require any criticism and last evening she was in exceptionally fine form. Her rendering of Benjamin Goddard's "Angels Guard Thee" was a treat thoroughly appreciated by those present, and it will be most deeply regretted by all in Edmonton who love music that Miss Webster is to leave for a couple of years; but it is to be the means of greater triumphs for her in the musical world.

Mr. Howard Stutchbury also sang in his usual good style Kipling's "Mandalay." Miss Webster was also assisted by a well balanced chorus and orchestra, and the male voices sang "The Soldier's Chorus" for which they received a merited encore. Miss Beatrice Crawford played the accompaniment in her usual sympathetic manner. Mr. Vernon Banford was the conductor both of the orchestra and chorus, and it is largely owing to his untiring efforts that the concert was such a great musical success.

A pleasing feature of the concert was the presentation of two magnificent bouquets to the popular songstress.

A NEW BUSINESS FIRM

Mr. Fred Perkins conducted a large business in Charlottetown, P. E. I., for a great many years, and has been a prominent business man of that city.
